

The full lookahead sweep shows where the design window first opens

All 15 lookaheads at the measured link rate, allowing one unnecessary copy per useful copy. Missing segments are physically infeasible, not missing observations.

